Help Us Understand Health Conditions in Pregnancy

Many people need to take medication during pregnancy to appropriately manage a health condition. Yet fewer than 10% of medications have enough information to determine their safety for use in pregnancy — this is where we need you as our partner!

"There is a huge need to generate more info for all of the drugs that people who are pregnant need to take."

--- Christina Chambers, PhD, MPH, Lead Investigator, MotherToBaby Pregnancy Studies

Are you currently pregnant? If you answered "yes", you may be able to help us advance our knowledge of how certain health conditions and their management can affect a pregnancy and a developing baby.

Will you take the step and become our partner? Make an impact on the health of future families today by joining one of our Pregnancy Studies!

You Can Help Future Moms & Babies

Volunteer for research to improve the health of families everywhere. MotherToBaby is currently enrolling people who are pregnant in observational studies to help provide crucial information about the safety of medications and vaccines during pregnancy.

Participants without medicine or vaccination exposures are needed. All research is done by the phone — no changes to your normal routine or travel required.

“We hope to identify as early as possible the circumstances in which a drug or immunization causes harm.”

— Christina Chambers, PhD, MPH, Lead Investigator, MotherToBaby Pregnancy Studies

Over 4,000 people have volunteered to participate in one or more of our pregnancy studies. Help us help future families by becoming one of them – find out if you qualify today!
